

(A) $\log(y/s+1)$ performs on par or better than alternative transformations

(B) Post-processing does not consistently improve results

(C) Non-zero overdispersion improves results for delta method and Pearson transformation

(D) More UMIs/cell, better k -NN overlap

